

M2Bio Rolls Out Sustainable Packaging for Liviana

December 31, 2021 · 3 min read

CAPE TOWN, SOUTH AFRICA / ACCESSWIRE / December 31, 2021 / WUHAN GENERAL GROUP, INC. (WUHN) ("WGG" or the "Company"), a biocetical company focused on alternative plant-based cannabinoids and mental health therapeutic research is pleased to share the following update:

M2Bio Sciences is pleased to announce the rollout of its sustainable packaging solution - Hempcelium™ to be piloted and implemented by its Liviana™ Extra Virgin Olive Oil brand. The state-of-the-art sustainable packaging is customized to fit its Extra Virgin Olive Oil glass bottles. The solution is a Hempcelium™ transport packaging foam made from hemp agri-waste and mushroom mycelium.

Hempcelium™ is a unique composite that outperforms most other sustainable alternatives currently available. The Hempcelium™ packaging structure is completely organic and can be grown into almost any shape, making it as versatile as styrofoam or polystyrene, less the damage and pollution that comes from using a conventional synthetic material. Because Hempcelium™ is grown and not produced with chemical compounds that need large amounts of energy to synthesize, the carbon footprint is very low, and there are zero industrial chemical byproducts emitted that are harmful to the natural environment, our water, ecosystems, food-chains and human health.

The unique Hempcelium™ composite has been developed in-house by its team of engineers at the M2Bio Sustainability Labs during 2021 and is ready for the South African market. The company is in the process of obtaining all necessary legal and copyrights pertaining to the trademark name Hempcelium™. M2Bio Sciences' Intellectual Property and Trademark legal team expects the process to be successfully concluded in Q1 2022.

"When you get the product with the packaging you are able to crumble up the Hempcelium™ foam into your garden bed or soil to decompose and support the health of your vegetation. Hempcelium serves an important function in the decomposition of organic matter in the soil. Research has demonstrated that it acts as a filter, removing groundwater contaminants and pollutants. It has shown potential to remove industrial toxins from the soil, which includes pesticides, chlorine, dioxin (a highly toxic
